... emergenza anche per loro ... stiamo provvedendo.

La famiglia sta andando bene. Sono stati colpiti da gran parte dei forti acquazzoni arrivati con le ultime piogge, cosicché la loro capanna sta quasi per crollare. La famiglia per sicurezza si è trasferita ospite in una casa vicina, la paglia del tetto della capanna è stata mangiata dalle termiti e ora sembra sul punto di finire. La madre brucia legna e prepara carbone (charcoal) che ora non è più un buon affare come prima visto che i venditori sono molti di più degli acquirenti. Siamo al loro fianco dal 13-01-2010

The family are doing well. They are also affected largely by heavy downpour as the shelter is almost to collapse. The family moved to a neighbour's house for safety, the grass thatch on the hut has been eaten by termites and now it looks like an ant. The mother was burning charcoal which is now a good business like before as the sellers are many more than the buyers

The family is under the care of mother who is single. The family mainly depend on CIPAD and Government relief food on a monthly basis. Their hut is leaking this time of rain therefore they need better shelter to protect them from cold rain and other hostile environment. They have received a kit, blankets and many other things from CIPAD. She had one new baby who was also added to the programme recently.

The family is under the care of mother who is single and sick. Father not alive. They don't have any other source of income apart from CIPAD and Government relief food. They have received a mosquito net and children have received school uniform, school bag, textbooks. They need 20 litres of kerosene

The family are doing well. They have received 20 litres of kerosene. Also they received 1 she-goat from CIPAD through the Aphialus programme. This goat has given birth to a young one. The children too received school uniform and stationery from CIPAD

---

The family are doing well. The area is so dry, in their plot they planted some maize but because the rain has stopped the maize will not be fruitful. They get water from Sololo Makutano Dam which is very dirty, therefore they need a water purifier and Aphialus has promised to provide it soon

---

The family are doing well. They have received a donkey from CIPAD which they use for transportation of items from Ethiopia to Sololo Makutano, such items are like fuel, biscuits.
